From the Pastor

Good morning dear friends! I am blessed to have the privilege of sharing the Word with you this morning. Clearly, at the end of the service, you will ultimately decide, whether, I should simply concentrate on singing and assisting our exceptional pastoral staff! I must say after six full-time and three part-time pastoral positions in six states beginning in 1975 these last several years serving Trinity Life Center as a volunteer pastor has been deeply satisfying.

Today, I will speak about corporate Praise and Worship. There's really nothing about which I am more passionate. Years ago, I learned how miracles may be secured in our praise; how our measure of faith may become so formidable as to change circumstances...indeed...move mountains. But our praise must ultimately lead to worship. And, worship, I believe, is God's revelation of Himself...to us. Thus, securing the platform upon which we may gain and flourish in supreme intimacy with our creator! I pray every day you breathe air that your praise may abound in holy joy and holy thanksgiving!

Blessings,

Larry Wayne
