

From the Pastor

I like the cartoon where the old man who looks a little crazy is holding a sign on the side of the road that says, "Turn back, the end is near!" Car after car pass on by him, with most people rolling their eyes about another religious nut out on the streets.

A mile later, all the cars have to turn around due to a huge sink hole that developed in the middle of the road. Of course, the old man could have been more helpful had he identified that he was only talking about the end of that particular road!

It's hard not to catastrophize about the future no matter what day we live in, but the Scriptures are clear that, even though we want to discern the times like the sons of Issachar, it's best to leave tomorrow's stress for tomorrow and live each day of our lives to the fullest, one day at a time.

One thing is for sure, we will all face a midnight hour at various times in our lives. That's what Habakkuk was facing as we explore today's text. This coming year for all of us will be a time to stand, to believe, to wait, to be faithful, and to make that strong and intimate Connection with our Heavenly Father as we spend quality time in prayer.

Blessings,

Randy & Pam
