

From the Pastor

'Hello' and 'goodbye' are the most common salutations in the world we live in. "Hey, what's up?" is what I hear coming out of my mouth the most. 'Hola' and 'Adios' are the Spanish equivalents. Of course, we all know that Italians say "How you doin'?"

At least 'goodbye' has some meaning in that you are quasi-blessing someone by saying you hope good (or even God) is a part of their future after you leave them. And I love 'Adios' because with that farewell we are definitely being placed into the hands of God.

But if you really want to greet and send someone away with a mighty blessing from God, say 'Shalom.' Shalom is the Hebrew word translated peace, but it means so much more! When we say 'Shalom,' we are saying to someone that I am asking God to give you health, and strength, and vitality of life.

I want Him to grant you wholeness and well-being in every aspect of your life. I want you to thrive, and walk in the fullness of all that God has for you, all the He created you to become. I want you to discover the exact reason why God placed you on this planet, and then I'm praying that you will walk in His peace so strongly that you will fulfill His plan for your life.

Wow, that smashes to pieces my usual greeting of 'hey, what's up' and my normal send off of 'see ya.' Please, no legalism on this, it's just food for thought. More than anything, I want you to think about all that is meant every time I say Shalom in today's sermon. Deep in my soul, that really is my heart's desire for each and every one of you.

Blessings,

Randy & Pam
