

From the Pastor

Remember the great trilogy of movies featuring Indiana Jones? In the last movie, Indy is very close to finding the treasure as his dad, played by Sean Connery, is trying to help him decipher what the clues mean. But it's like on the job training, because they are fighting the clock while trying to make sure they were following the clues precisely. In many ways, it was a matter of life and death.

One of the clues was the title of today's message, 'only the penitent will pass.' Indiana Jones, played by Harrison Ford, figures it out as he kneels down just before a machete is released that would have cut off his head!

The parable of the Barren Fig Tree is a story about the urgency of repentance, not just repenting but living in a perpetual state of repentance. Only those who genuinely repent will be the ones who will live in heaven with Jesus for the rest of eternity.

So, it is vital that we make that 180 degree turn. We need to have a thorough change in our minds, our hearts and our attitudes, because 'only the penitent will pass' over to the other side. And Jesus could not be more clear that those who do not repent will perish. He doesn't stutter when He expresses the truth that He cannot allow unrepented sin to enter into that incredibly holy place called heaven.

The only other alternative is a place called hell. Please be sobered by the thought of someone actually perishing. It's not like annihilation. It's like needing a fix as an addict and never being able to fulfill it. I once heard it described as a room full of chocolate chip cookies but there's never any milk. That certainly sterilizes this awful place that no one should have to eternally endure, but it unfortunately will be the place where we end up if we don't repent. Ask Jesus to forgive you of your sins right now, because:

Only the penitent will pass,

Randy & Pam
