

FROM THE PASTOR

Isaiah 9:7, in the Original Hebrew, says “To the Increase of His Government and to Peace no end.”

Why is there no verb at the end of the sentence? Why doesn't it say ‘and to peace there will be no end’? Simply because in Hebrew, when no verb is present where it should be, that signifies the fact that we are talking about something that is very eternal. In other words, it is expressing that there will never be an end to His Government's increase and there will never be an end to His peace!

Also, 77,778 times, the equivalent in English to our letter ‘m’ is used in the Old Testament. It's called a ‘mem.’ It is shaped like a square, and most of the time the square is open, and it's never closed in the middle of a sentence, with this one exception. It is a closed mem that we find in the middle of this sentence inside the Hebrew word for ‘increase’ in today's text.

So please follow this vastly important detail. Do you think it's a coincidence that 77,777 times this letter is used, it's an open ‘mem’ in the middle of a sentence, and one time...just one time, in the entire Old Testament, the ‘mem’ is closed mid sentence?

What this signifies is that the One Whose increase will never end is none other than the Jewish Messiah, and the Scribes refused to correct what was an obvious aberration because this letter and this word are pointing directly to the fact that the Jewish Messiah will be born of a virgin!

More Rabbis have been led to Christ using this one verse in the Bible than any other. It is indisputable evidence that Jesus Christ is the One and Only Jewish Messiah. Isn't that amazing? The rightful Heir to sit on David's throne used a feeding trough as His Throne.

Hallelujah!
