

FROM THE PASTOR

I just love the story of Joseph. I can't get enough of it! Perhaps being a little prideful when telling his brothers about his dreams, there's just no recorded sins that we can see he committed. I'm certain that he did sin, like all of us, but there's just nothing recorded about it, so he fits the forerunner of Christ.

He is despised and rejected, just like Jesus. If I were a Bible character this is the one I would like to be, so you don't see all my character flaws. Joseph kept his heart true and God just continued to reward him. Before long, he's the guy everyone wants to be!

I love how he never gave up when he was falsely accused. He kept his cool and then started being blessed in prison. Pretty soon he's in charge of the whole prison. He interprets dreams, and actually ascends even more, all the way up to being second only to Pharaoh, which made him the 2nd most powerful man in the world.

I think we have all been designed to dream and to dream big. Why can't we write that book or screenplay? Why not start your own business? Why couldn't we build a Mercy Hospital for the glory of God? What would you attempt to honor and glorify God if you could just dream big enough?

Something to think about,

Randy & Pam
